Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

For a long time, a generation or perhaps two generations the innocent bystander in this country has had no rights. If injured in a collision between employers and employes he has had no redress. Insurace policies are written exonerating the holder of damages due to acts of God or mobs.

The Stockton strike illustrates this situation. The canners were buying the farmers asparagus. The season is short. Unless asparagus is cut and canned when prime the farmer might just as well let his land grow weeds, far better in fact. For asparagus growing is a costly and specialized kind of agriculture. The farmers were caught in the collision between the canners and the cannery employes. As a group they have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars because of the strike. They have no more redress under our laws than if a high wind had come in from the east and blown their crop into the bay.

Employes of sixteen large hotels in San Francisco have struck. In those hotels, it is estimated, there are 6,000 guests. Aside from steps taken by the Health Department to protect sick persons and children, the guests have been forced to go elsewhere, or climb endless flights of stairs. Their lives have been jeopardized by lack of fire protection ordinarily given by hotel services. They have been damaged, all of them more or less, and they have no recourse in law.

We are not attempting here to place the blame on one side or the other. Our conclusion generally is that both employes and employers are to blame. But this much can be said with certainty, that the millions of people who are annually injured, as innocent bystanders in these clashes, should have some sort of redress. That both employer and labor should be held responsible when under any kind of contract, implied as in the case of hotels or written as in the case of asparagus farmers, where there is a failure to live up to the contract. We hate to suggest another law, since we are the most law-ridden and most lawless nation on earth, but if parties to a wage dispute were obliged first to deposit bonds, before either lockout or strike were declared, from which damages could be collected when damages were proved, there would probably be fewer strikes.

As a matter of fact pressure is increasing in Congress to bring about legislation which will fix the responiibility for damage arising from labor disturbances. The great body of citizenry is immediately concerned, when a great automobile manufacturer is halted in his tracks and forced to suspend business for an indefinite time. It may or may not be the manufacturer's fault. When some thousands of men are thrown out of work, for any reason, every business in the immediate vicinity of the trouble is directly affected. Merchants who sell food, clothing, furniture, or household furniture and appliances, are damaged in sums ranging into thousands of dollars. And, indirectly, people as far away as California is from Michigan, are losers also. Our California farmers depend upon the big cities of the east for markets for fruit and vegetables. One small town alone in California annually sends 12,000 carloads of grapes, mostly to eastern markets. Labor upheavals destroy those markets. The California farmer has no recourse under the law.

Under former administrations at Washington little progress was made in arriving at some sensible formula for halting the wide injury done by labor strikes and lockouts. The best that all the years can show is the act providing for mediation of railroad labor disputes. This has worked so well that to the lay mind it would seem as if the principles governing there might be adapted and applied to all other differencs arising between employers and employes, so long as they affect interstate commerce. States it would seem might pass similar laws affecting intrastate commerce, and an end made to the tremendous waste that these quarrels entail. In any event, those who demand justice for employers, employes and the public, might well insist that both parties to the dispute be made responsible for the damage they do.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dolan returned early in the week from a business and pleasure trip in San Francisco.

California Menu Contest to Feature Homecraft Institute

JANE BARTON
HOME CRAFT INSTITUTE LEADER

Several letters received by Jane Barton since the announcement of the dates for the Homecraft Institute in Nevada City have led her to announce a California Menu Contest for local housewives. The idea of a menu consisting of typical California recipes and featuring California home products has been a pet project of Jane Barton for many years. Because of the many suggestions and helpful hints furnished by the thousands of homemakers who have attended her Homecraft Institutes. Mrs. Barton is now able to offer such a menu, and to conduct a contest for similar menus. Details will be announced at the first session of the California Homecraft Institute scheduled for May 19, 20, 21 in Nevada Theatre under the joint auspices of the Nevada City Nugget and the Pacific Rural Press. Admission is free, and every housewife and homemaker in the entire community is invited to be our guest at this unique series of homecraft conferences.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

It is just 50 years ago that the first full trainload of California oranges was shipped from California to eastern markets. Sixty years ago the first single carload had been thus transported. The orange had been introduced into California by the Spanish Fathers and had proven a satisfactory crop from the very first. In 1841 William Wolfskill had begun the first commercial production and in 1853 Mathew Keller had started an orchard from imported orange seed near Wolfskill's. Jane Barton is celebrating the 50th anniversary of the first shipment of a trainload of oranges to the east by including several unusual orange recipes in the program. Together with these she will show the homecrafters how to make a new kind of frosting, several brand new chicken recipes and ways to make salads that husbands will eat. These will come under the section of the program devoted to kitchen craft.

ALL PARTICIPATE IN DISCUSSION

Those who have attended the Homecraft Institute before, know that every session is informal, and that everyone is invited to ask questions and to take part in the discussions. In announcing this as the "California" Homecraft Institute, Mrs. Barton is trying to call to her audience's attention the wonderful opportunity for unique and pleasing menus offered by the many typical California foods and California recipes that are now available.

There's nothing "high hat" about the programs of the Homecraft Institute. Mrs. Barton herself a homemaker, has tested out in her own family all the recipes she presents. Simplicity, and the art of making the most out of what you have, are the chief points in her plans and menus.

The Homecraft Department of the Pacific Rural Press has also taken special pains to check the recipes for their dietetic value and for economy of preparation. No stone has been left unturned to produce recipes that are of definite value as well as economical and easy to prepare.

BLAZING DOMESTIC TRAILS

Jane Barton has blazed the trails through domestic California for easier and finer living by taking advantage of modern methods and by using modern devices in the daily round of domestic duties. Her programs are built around simple and inexpensive methods rather than the involved and elaborate recipes and methods that are often features in domestic articles and demonstrations. Every session is free to all and at the close of each session, interested members of the audience are invited to come up on the platform and talk with Mrs. Barton so that they may have her aid in solving their individual home problems.

FLOWER ARRANGEMENT DEMONSTRATION TO BE HELD

This year's Homecraft Institute brings a wide variety of information on a number of subjects. Talking as one homemaker to another, Jane Barton will demonstrate among other things, flower arrangement, an art that is attracting widespread attention at the present time.

FRUITS AND FLOWERS

Homemakers are invited to bring flowers, leaves, twigs, seed pods or grasses which they would like to exhibit in the flower arranging contest which will take place on Thursday. Mrs. Barton requests that those bringing material for exhibiting, please have it at the hall by eleven o'clock Thursday morning. To be entered, each arrangement must be in its owner's container and the container must be tagged with the owner's name in order to facilitate return. Mrs. Barton will comment on the arrangements that are submitted and will suggest changes and improvements should any occur to her.

Mrs. Barton will also show practical methods of planning and arranging a living room. Under "Recipes for Hilarity," she will offer suggestions about party games and amusements.

Remember to set the date aside now. Jane Barton's talks will be given in the Nevada Theatre starting at 2 p. m. on May 19, 20, 21. The Homecraft Institute is brought to you under the joint auspices of the Nevada City Nugget and the Pacific Rural Press.

FIFTY DIE WHEN LIGHTENING HITS THE HINDENBERG

The Hindenburg, giant Zeppelin air-liner yesterday afternoon as it approached the mooring mast at Lakehurst, New Jersey airport, suddenly exploded and the ship burst into flames. There were approximately 100 persons aboard, 39 of them passengers. Fifty perished and practically all others were injured. The ship was drifting to its moorings and was between three and four hundred feet of the ground when the explosion occurred. Elaborate precautions have always been enforced against igniting the highly inflammable hydrogen gas which fills the great balloon sections of the liner. The Hindenburg had a proud record of many trips across the Atlantic with never an accident. It was claimed that as the ship proceeded over New York a storm burst and that as it hovered over Lakehurst a bolt of lightening hit it.

DETECTIVE BUYS ILLEGAL GOLD IN NEV. COUNTY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—One of two Nevada county defendants on trial in the federal court here for conspiracy to violate the Gold Reserve Act of 1934 today was identified as the purchaser of refined gold which was not obtained from mines owned by him.

Russel O. McGhee, who related he was employed by the state division of mines in 1935 "to get the goods on the big shots in the high-grading game.' testified he sold gold at $24 an ounce to B. W. Hills of Grass Valley from August, 1935 to August, 1936.

Hills is a codefendant with W. E. Moulton of French Corral on the conspiracy charge and on a second charge of swearing to false affidivits in connection with gold shipments to the United States Mint in San Francisco.

McGehee, called as a witness for the government, related that soon after his employment by the division of mines he purchased "a little highgrading refining plant" and set it up at his home on a highway near Grass Valley.

He declared he did not know Moulton at that time, but was approached by Hills in May, 1935. He declared Hills told him he would pay him $24 an ounce for "all gold I would bring to him."

"I began selling gold to Hills and sold it from August, 1935, to August, 1936," the witness testified. "I sold it to him once or twice a week, with sometimes a week or more intervening between.

"Hills did not know where it came from. No names were mentioned of who I got gold from, and I musn't ask him about his business."

Earlier Andrew J. Loftus, identified as an employe of the mint, took the stand briefly and identified certain reports of the mine covering transactions with Hills.

Walter A. Bradley, chief of the state division of mines, preceded McGehee on the stand describing the circumstances of McGehee's employment "to obtain information on gold stolen from the mines."

The trial is before Federal District Judge Michael J. Roche.

WORK RESUMED ON GOLD POINT MINE

The Tombstone Development company of Nevada has taken over the Gold Point mine south of Downieville. It is stated between $700 and $800 of materials and equipment were taken to the mine Wednesday from Nevada City and that a large sum is to be spent at once getting the property in shape for active operations. K. O. Russell represented the company in Nevada City this week.

Gordon Bettles, mining engineer and mine operator of this city, had charge of the Gold Point mine for some time and it changed hands several months ago. Miners worked at the property more or less all winter. Is is stated this is a big low grade proposition. The Gold Point mine is owned by Downieville people.

Hi Minstrel Show Promises Rare Treat

Tuesday evening at eight-fifteen the Nevada City High School Combined Choruses will present for the citizens of the gold mining town the first finstrel show to be presented by the high school, the "Dixie Minstrel Show."

Direction of the performance is under the supervision of Mrs. Libbey, leader in musical programs of this city.

Black faced comedians will dominate the program with choruses and special dance groups. Among the dances to be presented will be a "Floradora Sextette" number, which is not only entertaining, but also picturesque. A "Dutch Dance" is another highlight of the performance with approximately sixteen students dancing to the tune of the old German songs. Probably the most surprising dance of the evening will be the "Cake Walk" which is being kept a secret, even to the other members of the minstrel show. A pickaninny dance will be given by the students. Another feature will be the French peasant dance. Jokes, old and new will tickle the funny spot of the audience and solos will amuse and interest them immensely. Miss Thelma Petersen is in charge of the dances. Other assistants to Mrs. Libbey are: Dialogue, Miss Baggley; costumes, Miss Bartholomew and the clothing classes; stage sets, Mr. Hobbie, Mr. Barron; make-up, Miss Jones; music, Miss Dornberger, Mr. Barron, Mr. Sweeney; seating and ushers, Mr. Kjorlie; tickets, publicity, programs, Miss Baggley and the art department. The cast has been practicing their show at the grammar school auditorium for the past month and those who miss the show will always regret it. Mr. Sweeney and the N. C. H. S. Band will render selections before the show, which will also add to the enjoyment of those attending. The admission price for Tuesday evening is forty cents.

STATE WAIVER OF YUBA RIGHTS ASKED BY BOARD

The Board of Supervisors at their session on Tuesday passed a resolution asking that State Department of Finance waive the priority of state water rights in the Yuba river in order to enable the Federal Government to obtain such revenue as may arise from the incidental sale of electric power generated at the Yuba Narrows debris dam when built. The resolution follows:

WHEREAS, construction of a dam at the Narrows of Yuba River was authorized by the Congress of the United States in 1935 for the main purpose of providing storage for hydraulic mining debris (Public No. 409, 74th Congress, Appd. Aug. 30, 1935;) and

WHEREAS, plans of the U. S. War Department contemplate beginning construction of said Narrows Dam within the next few months; and

WHEREAS, it will be of benefit to the Federal Government and to the people of California that the project be fully utilized, not only for the main purpose of impounding hydraulic mining debris, but also for incidental uses consistent therewith; and

WHEREAS, a moderate amount of by-product hydro-electrical energy may be generated at said dam which will produce project revenue helpful to the Federal Government in recovering the cost of the project and advantageous to the mining enterprises in reducing the charges for debris storage; and

WHEREAS, under special legislation the Division of Water Resources of the State of California is maintaining a water right reservation on Yuba River in the interest of a proposal covering a huge reservoir of dubious economic merit; and

WHEREAS, it is obvious that such suggested reservoir will not be constructed for manw decades, if ever; and

WHEREAS, the state law provides (Chap. 462, page 1518, 1935 Stat.) that the Department of Finance may waive the priority of the existing state reservation in favor of present development; and

WHEREAS, the Narrows Dam power output is proposed to be marketed through the agency of Sacramento Utility Co. which has filed proper water right application and applied to the State Department of Finance for release of priority as provided by law.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, by the Board of Supervisors of Nevada County, that the pending application for release of priority is hereby endorsed and that the Division of Water Resources and the State Department of Finance be urged to accomplish such action as will free the Narrows power development from the effect of the state water reservation as promptly as practicable; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that copies of this resolution be transmitted to A. E. Stockberger of the State Department of Finance and Edward Hyatt of the State Division of Water Resources.

WOMAN KILLED IN HORSE AND BUGGY ACCIDENT

Mrs. Lucy H. Kerfoot of Downieville, died yesterday afternoon as a result of going over the bank on a steep mountain grade while driving home with a horse and buggy. She and her husband, John Kerfoot, were returning from Downieville to their home, which lies in the hills adjacent to the Yuba Pass highway between Downieville and Sierra City. At one point, owing to the character of the road, they had been in the habit of leaving their car and continuing in a horse and buggy up the grade. For some reason Kerfoot remained with the car, on this occasion. He heard his wife call out and started up the grade to find that the horse, vehicle and his wife had gone over the grade. Medical assistance was summoned, but by the time the doctor arrived, she had passed away.

Mrs. Kerfoot was a native of Memphis, Tennessee, 66 years of age, and she and her husband have resided near Downieville for the past 11 years. They were highly respected, and many friends of long standing mourn her passing. The funeral arrangements are in charge of the Holmes Funeral Home.

HANGING ROCK FALLS AND KILLS C. W. HAMILTON

Clark William Hamilton of Town Talk was accidentally killed in the Murchie mine east of Nevada City yesterday morning when a hanging rock fell on him crushing him about the chest. He was working with his partner, Joseph Bell, who was called by Coroner Jefford last evening to tell of the accident, that it might be determined whether an injuest is necessary.

Funeral arrangements will be made as soon as word has been received from family members.

Clark Hamilton was born December 22, 1898 in LeHarte, Kansas and was 39 years, 4 months and 14 days of age. He was the son of William and Mary Hamilton. Left to mourn his passing are his father William Hamilton of Kansas; brother, Thomas Hamilton, Grass Valley; and the following sisters, Mrs. Maude Thompson, Oregon; Mrs. Edith Guy, Moscow, Idaho; Mrs. Mabel Steel, Bartelsville, Okla.

Footnotes on Creation

Obscure little news items, mere "fillers" on the page of a newspaper, sometimes speak enlightening volumes about life and the trend of the times.

Consider this statistical bit, reported out of Washington the other day, on the "hobo" situation in America. It said simply that trainmen are encountering some 22 per cent fewer persons "riding the rods" than a year ago, but that fatal accidents among the train "hitch-hikers" are mounting.

Significance? Well, first it is the best of prosperity news, proving that the ranks of the homeless whom depression cast out to drift aimlessly, are thinning. The wanderers are getting jobs.

Here also is a note on progress. Why are there more accidents, though fewer "tramps"? It's the swift streamlined trains, the faster freights. These are bringing ever better service to shippers, and speedier travel to paid passengers under the most perfect safety conditions in the history of transport But they make hitching rides on trains more hazardous.

And a note on human nature. Despite all that's done to warn them off, the "tramps" insist on riding, and even resent the activities of trainmen who try to keep them out of danger. Men have ever balked at efforts to save them from themselves, as witness our wild auto drivers,

So a brief bit out of Washington gives us commentaries on prosperity, on progress, on human nature and one of the fundamentals in man's larger problems. Just a "filler" in the day's news. But the "fillers" sometimes, are true footnotes on the whole of creation.—Contributed.

The Lost Word

As Mark Twain said about the weather, so it is with economy and thrift in government. Everybody talks about it, but nobody does anything.

Maybe the trouble is that there has been too much shouting of the word "economy." Maybe the congressmen, legislators, bureau chiefs, tax district heads and all that gentry charged with the disposition of the people's money, have heard the word and echoed it, have promised it and mouthed it so incessantly that it's now just a sound sans all significance.

Today in all states, in Congress and in all communities. the mouths say "economy," but the figures say that more of the American public's money is being spent than at any time in history.

Certainly there'll come a day of reckoning. But you can't impress that fact on public servants who hold the purse-strings, by pounding on the word whose punch is gone—the long lost word "economy."

In the end, it is safe to say, there'll be a resort to another way than shouting, a way that will restore the word's meaning, a way that will make it heard without inducing "ear fatigue." For with ballots, you know, the public can shout silently.—Contributed.

CONFERENCE ON SOCIAL WORK IN SAN JOSE, MAY 9

SAN JOSE, May 6.—Among the authorities on social work who will address the 29th annual meeting of the California Conference of Social Work in San Jose May 9 to 13 are Paul Kellogg, editor of The Survey and Survey Graphic, service journals covering the fields of modern social work; and Helen Hall (Mrs. Paul Kellogg), administrator of the famed Henry Street Settlement in New York and president of the National Federation of Settlements.

It has been announced that Mr. Kellogg will speak on "Work, Livelihood and the American Chance," at the opening session of the five day conference on Sunday night May 9. Delegates may expect to hear an outstanding address on the subject from Mr. Kellogg, who in 1936 was the recipient of the Pugsley Award for the outstanding speech, "Employment Planning," at the National Conference of Social Work. He is editor of the findings of the Pittsburgh Survey, authoritative close-range study of life and labor of the American steel district; one of the founders of the Foreign Policy Association; and vice chairman of the advisory council of the president's committee on economic security.

Miss Hall, when chairman of the Unemployment Division of the National Federation of Settlements, recognized the insecurity of wage earners in prosperous days and made a nationwide study of unemployment in 1928, the results of which were published in two books—Some Folks Won't Work, and Case Studies in Unemployment. In addition to studies on unemployment in the automobile industry and on American methods of handling relief during the depression, Miss Hall has also spoken and written on other phases of social work such as leisure time activities, the arts in relation to leisure, child labor, the mental hygiene aspects of our relief methods, housing, and consumer's problems.

In addition to the general sessions of the conference, which hundreds of men and women from every part of the state are expected to attend, section meetings on Social Case Work, Social Group Work, Community Organization and Social Action will be held.

SACRAMENTO, May 6. — Senate approval of the repeal of the two-year-old state highway carriers act which places trucking under control of the railroad commission was predicted this week following prolonged debate on the subject.

Senate Bill 304, which provides for repeal of the act, will come up for action in the senate on Friday, May 7. Proponents of the repeal measure claim they are acting in the interests of the farmer who has been hit hard by the increase in truck rates established by the railroad commission.

Representatives of the trucking, shipping and railroad interests claim regulatoin of trucking is necessary for the survival of all forms of transportation. The highway carriers act, they declare, prevents chiseling and is favored by the truck owners, whose business before its enactment was in a demoralized condition.

Wallace Ware, a member of the state railroad commission, urged the senate not to repeal the act, which, he said, had saved "millions of dollars" to shipping interests and especially farmers.

All members of a labor union would be required to cast their votes by secret ballot before a strike could be called under a bill passed by the senate this week. The senate also passed the Olson oil bill as amended by the assembly and sent it to Governor Merriam for signing. By resolution the senate requested the assembly to adjourn on May 14.

Without debate, the senate passed the record-breaking $438,000,000 state budget for the 1937-39 biennium and sent it to Governor Merriam for his signature, which was expected to be forthcoming before May 10. It was rumored that the governor may trim out of the budget the $7,500,000 in capital expenditures for improvements at state institutions. This item was transferred from his original budget to a place among relief items by the Democratic controlled assembly. The relief appropriations suggested by Merriam were cut by $8,000,000 by the assembly.

The I street bridge across Sacramento river will be closed for the next four months during reconstruction at the east approach, engineers announced this week. Traffic from the west side of the valley will be routed into Sacramento over Tower Bridge and M street.

General John A. Sutter who pioneered the great Golden Empire and founded the City of Sacramento, may be returned to his old stamping grounds. A request was made this week by Arthur S. Dudley, secretary manager of Sacramento Chamber of Commerce, that the bones of Sutter and wife, Anna, now buried in the Moravian cemetery at Lititz, Penn., be returned to Sacramento and suitably enshrined in the historic Fort Sutter built nearly 100 years ago. Sutter died in Washington, D. C. in 1880 while pressing a suit before congress for recovery of his land in the Sacramento valley, taken from him by the over-eager gold seekers who rushed westward after gold was discovered at Sutter's mill at Coloma.

$50 FOR EXCESS LOAD

Harlan, truck driver for Hemstreet and Bill, contractors on the new highway, between Goodyear's Bar and Downieville, pleaded guilty in the city court Wednesday before City Judge Miles Couhglan, and was fined $50 for driving a motor truck with its load weighing more than 3,000 pounds across the Galt bridge.

When a Railroad Comes to Town It Usually Comes to Stay !

Blazing the path of a new rail line is pioneering. The bold terrain of Nature must be tuneled, levelled, filled, bridged—that shining steel rails may carve a path to permit safety, speed, power and comfort in travel, in the opening of new commercial vistas. A railroad represents a heavy investment. When a Railroad comes to town it comes to stay!

A railroad must make itself indispensable to the country it serves. To do so it must give the maximum in service, to maintain a schedule which will be of greatest benefit to the majority and to maintain charges kept to the lowest possible level.

The Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railroad, in serving western Nevada County for over 60 years, has adhered to a policy of fair and square dealing, impartiality and consistent efforts to keep abreast of conditions in a changing age.

BOARD TO STOP LIQUOR SALES IN STRIKE AREAS

SACRAMENTO, May 6.—Action looking toward prevention of the sale of liquor in strike areas was taken recently by the state board of equalization.

In view of the numerous strikes throughout the state and the danger of selling liquor during times of particular stress, the board adopted a resolution empowering George M. Stout, state liquor administrator, to revoke liquor licenses temporarily when such action appeared necessary for public safety.

The resolution provides:

"It is hereby ordered that whenever a strike is imminent or prevailing in any locality of the state, and danger of violence injurious to the public safety is threatening at a time when the board is not in session, George M. Stout, the state liquor administrator, when so requested by local authorities, is hereby authorized and directed to request liquor licensees in such area to suspend the sale of alcoholic beverages until such time as the board can take action with respect there to. Immediately upon issuing such request, the state liquor administrator shall communicate with the members of the board to obtain from them such action with respect to the approval of the state liquor administrator's action as the members of the board shall deem advisable."

YOUTHS MAY NOW ENROLL IN CMTC

Parents of eligible young men desirous of attending Citizens' Military Training Camp at the Presidio of Monterey, California, this summer, July 1 to 20, should have no fear for their son's safety while at camp. Safety precautions maintained at camp are those developed over a long period of time in the Army and adhered to religiously by army officers in charge of camp.

Examples of these precautions are strict fire regulations, covering all cases of fires that may occur. Life guards supervise swimming. Extreme care is maintained at the pistol and rifle ranges where the men qualify with firearms, and a correct and definite procedure is followed. Deviation from this procedure meets with prompt and certain discipline. A final example in the way of safety precautions is the maintenance of daily routine.

Prompt and expert medical attention is offered every trainee at camp by the personnel of the Army Medical Corps, and all officers in charge of camp adhere to a policy of "See the Doctor now" with CMTC men. There is no charge for medical service rendered at CMTC.

Enrollments and quotas for CMTC are filling rapidly and interested young men should act at once if they desire to attend camp. See your local representative for CMTC, or write the Enrollment Officer, Presidio of Monterey, California, direct.

CLOWNS GATHERED FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD WITH BIG CIRCUS

Two of the sixty star laugh-makers with the great Al G. Barnes and Sells Floto Combined Circus.

Sixty clowns gathered after a year's search, from all parts of the world, will cut capers and do stunts utterly new in the clown world with the super Al G. Barnes and Sells Floto Combined Circus that comes to Marysville, Tuesday, May 11. Circus grounds, Lafayette Square.

A guarantee that children will sream with uncontrollable mirth and staid parents almost burst their sides with suppressed laughter is given by these merry-makers whenever they walk on the great hippodrome track. No such colossal aggregation of funmakers has ever before been presented by any amusement organization and only the uniting of these two giants of the tented world makes the offering possible now.

In what the odd one thousand persons who go to make up this super circus call, "clown alley"—that part of the dressing tents where the sixty monarchs of fun make up and don their motley, there are many producing clowns who have introduced a number of innovations new to the white top world.

Hundreds upon hundreds of world famous arenic stars, as well as scores of noted continental stars are seen twice daily. Wonders, never before seen in America, vie with each other for audience acclaim.

Performances of the big show, replete with new and amazing features, will be given at 2:00 and 8:00 P. M. In each case the doors will open one hour earlier to permit inspection of the mammoth menagerie.

STUDENT TELLS STORY OF FINAL CRUSADER TEST

By FRED GARRISON

Returning from a delightful trip last Saturday, Miss Nancy Jones, faculty member, Joan Grant, one of the finalists in the California Crusaders contest, and Fred Garrison, alternate, reported many sights of the big city of San Francisco.

Leaving Nevada City at 10 a. m. Thursday morning, the trio journeyed to San Francisco, crossing the new Oakland-San Francisco Bay Bridge arriving at the Pacific coast city at 2 in the afternoon. After dinner that evening, they went to the Second Annual California Crusaders' Finalist Contest. The contest was held in the Veterans' Memorial Auditorium in the Civic Center and the hall was packed with an interested audience of some 1,500 persons. Ten speakers, who were winners of the school, county and regional contest throughout northern California were present to give their idea of "American Citizenship and What It Means to Me." These ten high school students were the winners of 10,000 entries this year. Musical selections were given by the Polytechnic high school orchestra. The Lowell high school R. O. T. C. acted as ushers. After remarks by the California Crusaders' directors, the contestants were introduced and gave their inspiring addresses. After more of the program, the decision of the judges was announced and the cups awarded. Miss Joan Grant, representative of Nevada City high school, Nevada county, and the Golden Empire counties was awarded a cup along with the other finalists who did not take any place in the contest. Although Miss Grant was not among the winners, she spoke with poise and stood high in the tabulations of the judges. The Nevada City "sight seers" then journeyed to the Mark Hopkins hotel for dancing. On Friday, the group saw the Al G. Barnes--Sells-Floto Circus and enjoyed it. That evening they were taken to the Alcazar Theatre to see the Federal Theatre production of "The Swing Parade" a lively musical revue. The group also saw how the San Francisco Chronicle was printed from the beginning of the issue to the distribution of it. They returned home on Saturday. The trip was interesting and educational and the people of Nevada City feel that Miss Joan Grant represented not only the school, but the city and county as well with the honor of being one of the ten best speakers out of 10,000 entrants of northern California.

Miss Jones, Joan Grant and Fred Garrison gave addresses in an special assembly held this week and Miss Jones awarded the California Crusaders' 'Honor Award, which goes to all entrants, to the following contestants: Miss Joan Grant, winner, Mary Lou Draper, Mary Martz and Fred Garrison.

ROTARY ENVOYS REPORT DISTRICT SUBDIVISION

Oscar Odegaard and Bill Cain yesterday gave the Rotary Club a report of the Rotary Convention held in Pasadena last week. They brought the news that the second Rotary district which embraces California, Nevada and Hawaiian Islands has been divided into five districts. The district in which Nevada City and Grass Valley are will be known as District No. 2B and will comprise clubs in Northern California from Alameda to the Oregon line, excluding San Francisco and the coast counties.

The delegates gathered at the convention declared that it was one of the best ever held in California.

MRS. WHITE ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Frank White of Orchard street entertained at seven tables of whist Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. George Gildersleeve won first prize. Several friends were present from Grass Valley.

UNION ICE CO. OPENS COOLERATOR SEASON

Fred Sauvee, Union Ice Company agent of Nevada City, also agent for the Coolerator has a brisk demand for these newest and most modern refrigerators. He states their slogan is "Cold Alone is Not Enough," some moisture being required to keep foods in perfect condition. The coolerators, beautiful and dependable, have a capacity for ice ranging from 50 pounds to 600 pounds, making them suitable for the smallest home to the large business firms.

Among many splendid features is the making of crystal ice clear cubes of ice in five minutes, doing away with the cloudy cube, and makes a better appearance in the many iced drinks served throughout the summer time.

COUNTY BAR IS HOST TO JUDGES OF HIGH COURT

Justices of the third appelate district of California were guests of the Nevada County Bar Association at their annual dinner held at the Bret Harte Inn Wednesday evening. Superior Court judges and officers of the Sacramento Bar association were also honored.

At the dinner Judge George L. Jones of Nevada City was toastmaster. Attorney E. H. Armstrong of Grass Valley made the address of welcome. Judge Pullen, presiding justice of the third appellate district, responded for the justices.

Judge Peter J. Shields of Sacramento spoke in the highest terms of the members of the earlier Nevada County Bar Association, giving special mention to Judge Niles Searls, Judge Garber, William M. Stewart and Judge Frank Nilon.

Other speakers of the occassion were Judge Malcolm C. Glenn of Sacramento, Judge Dal M. Lemmon and B. F. Van Dyke, president of the Sacramento Bar Association, William Shaw, president of the Sacramento Inn of Court and Herbert E. Whit, former president of the Sacramento Bar Association.

Regrets at their inability to be present were received from Associate Justice Plummer, Judge Raglan Tuttle and W. E. Wright, president of the Nevada County Bar Association.

Other visitors present were:

ALLEGED HIT-RUN DRIVER TO APPEAR

Arthur Lincoln will be arraigned in the Superior Court today on information filed by District Attorney Vernon Stoll for failing to stop and render assistance following an accident on the highway below Grass Valley in which R. P. G. & E. COMPLETE 7-MILE LINE EXTENSION

The Pacific Gas and Electric company on April 30 completed its latest improvement and line extension in Nevada county. The new seven mile extension to Indian Springs, extension of the Rough and Ready service line has been completed. Twenty two subscribers have signed up and will take electricity as soon as the service lines are completed. About 130 poles were used in the extension. Two miles of the previously installed Rough and Ready line was replaced because of damage caused by the winter storms. The total project amounted to seven thousand dollars.

Harry B. Cox, of the Barnegat ranch, at the end of the new seven mile extension was already to "go electric" and was prepared to use the electricity the moment it was available.

FIVE YEAR OLD BOY CATCHES BIG TROUT

Little five year old Robert, or Bobbie Medearis, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Medearis of this city, is certainly a proud chap these days. He went trout fishing in one of the nearby streams Wednesday and when he landed a big fish he scrambled up the steep bank and into town to show his dad and take it to the Nevada City Drug store to be weighed and measured. Mr. Gaskins measured the speckled beauty to find that it was eleven and one fourth inches long and told Bobbie it was the largest brought to the dug store so far this season another bit of glory added to his good luck.

ERROR IN COLLISION STORY CORRECTED

The article regarding a collision between a car driven by Raymond Dent and Sheriff Carl Tobiassen, printed in the Nugget last Monday was in error. Dent was not driving an Alpha truck but was driving his own car.

This junction, or intersection is probably the most dangerous one in the entire county. Although there is a stop sign, even after a motorist has stopped, he is unable to see the road to the west for the first hundred yards because rising ground shuts off the view completely. There have been several serious accidents there and if this condition continues to be tolerated, there should be special warning signs placed there of danger.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Coulter are leaving Nevada City May 17 after a residence here of several years. Their many friends will be sorry to learn of their departure. Their son, Merle, who joined the U. S. navy about a year ago, is now in Hawaii. He wrote his parents he was having a grand time.

CORONER OFFERS BOARD PLAN OF CONSOLIDATION

Coroner L. R. Jefford meeting with the Board of Supervisors this week to ask for a leave of absence for six weeks, suggested that the supervisors consolidate the offices of coroner and sheriff. Jefford stated that he doubted whether as a matter of good public policy an undertaker should hold the office of coroner, and opined that it lay within the power of the supervisors to consolidate the office with that of the sheriff.

The office of coroner, it develops receives mileage fees and a remuneration of $20 each for burials of indigent dead. This would amouut to an average of about $104 a month. If the office were placed under the sheriff it would necessitate employment of another deputy, and some members of the board doubted whether a suitable deputy for this work could be obtained for $104 per month.

Personal

Mrs. Caroline Andrus of Negaunee, Mich., arrived last Friday to spend a few weeks with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Osborne of the Ridge Route southwest of Nevada City. She is enthusiastic over the beautiful scenery of this section as it is very much different than in her home state.

R. E. Lane, of the regional forest service office in San Francisco was here early in the week to inspect road and trail construction for the engineering department of his office.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tortellotte of Bik Creek, Fresno county, have spent the last three weeks at their home in Willow Valley. They will return to Big Creek today where Mr. Tortellotte will resume his work after recovering from a severe operation.

Harry Davis, brother of Will Davis Willow Valley, came out from his home in St. Paul to spend a months vacation visiting with his brother and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank White of this city will leave May 20 for Detroit, Mich., to take delivery of a new Dodge car. They will visit relatives in Ohio before returning to their home in this city.

Little six year old Mary Lou Criss of Park avenue was operated upon uate Saturday evening for appendicitis at Jones Memorial hospital in Grass Valley. Dr. W. W. Reed was the attending physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gregory of Nevada City are in receipt of a message from their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs James Scheimer of Antioch that a baby daughter was born to them April 12. Mrs. Scheimer was the former Jane Gregory of this city.

FOREST SERVICE ENFORCES FIRE PERMIT RULE

Tahoe National Forest service headquarters received a call for assistance on a fire in the Camptonville district Monday morning that covered 15 acres before being brought under control. The boys from the stub camp at Camptonville were being sent to Grass Valley during the cold weather and were returned to the camp April 15. An additional 25 boys were sent out Monday. Huge clouds of smoke arose over the horizon for several hours Monday causing many local people to believe the fire was at the Nevada City airport or at Lake Vera.

H. Rothe, fire dispatcher in the local headquarters wishes to warn everyone that the deadline for private bon fires expired April 15 and all persons wishing to burn on their own property or on public lands must secure fire permits. If a fire gets off of private property, which often happens, persons who set the fires are held liable for the damages.

Pine needles, carpets of leaves, and low brush under pine trees are rapidly drying out and the fire hazard is increasing daily. Three fires have occurred in the Tahoe National forest in recent weeks in the Camptonville area burning over 200 acres.

Mr. B. C. Goldsmith of the local headquarters also stated every time a fire races through timber it burns trunks of pines and weakens the trees to disease or causes it to die if the fire is severe enough.

Mr. Goldsmith stated that very few people realize the expense of these fires. When one occurs the forest service is called on to send out CCC boys on them. These boys are assigned to road work and other improvements and they are tied up for days at a time on these fires. After each fire the boys are given a day of rest from the hard and often dangerous fire fighting and much time is lost, besides destruction of timber and other property.

CITY COUNCIL OKEYS FILTERS FOR SWIM POOL

The city council last evening sanctioned a plan proposed by the park commission to filter the water that runs into the city pool in Pioneers Park. A ditch and pipe line has recently been constructed to tap the water in Little Deer Creek and bring it to a point nearly opposite the pool. It is proposed to lift this water by pumping it to a point at the east end of the terrace above the pool and let it run through a series of three filters. This is being done to clear up the water so that in the deepest part the bottom will be visible to the life guard and it is also believed that filtering will do much to prevent the growth of algae.

A committee consisting of W. H. Griffith and George Gildersleeve of the Chamber of Commerce asked the city council if they would be willing to provide a floor covering and such other furnishings as might be needed in the quarters in the city hall. The council asked the committee to prepare a statement of what was desired assurances of the councils cooperation.

DeWitt Nelson, forest supervisor, requested the council to place a light in the vicinity of his home on Piety Hill. The entire neighborhood he said constitutes probably the darkest spot in town and due to the fact there have been a number of prowlers at night there, he thought a light there would be much appreciated. The council promised to look into the matter.
